EDITOR'S LETTER

I have been so pleased by the response of the members in submitting material and helping with the various aspects of publishing the society quarterly, the Pioneer. It is truly a society endeavor and without your help, we would not have the quality and variety which we now have.

Grace Embers, Editor

PRESIDENT'S LETTER

The past two years have passed quickly. The Douglas County Genealogical Society has accomplished a great deal, but much work remains to be done. I have had the good fortune and opportunity to meet, in person and by correspondence, many endearing and interesting people. Some I will never see but the friendships made will be remembered for a long time.

My own genealogy work has had to take a back seat to a great extent. But the rewarding experience of helping others has given me an insight into many ideas and methods of searching. I would recommend copying records for the Pioneer, indexing census records, working on cemetery projects, copying city and county records, etc., as an excellent way to practice, at home, the skills needed to do research in far away places where your ancestors lived.

A great big thank you to all members and friends who have made the two years of my presidency enjoyable. Your help and cooperation is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Donald Vaughn, President

HURT WHILE FLUSHING SEWERS

John PATTERSON, A City Employee, Injured by Passing Team

John PATTERSON, a city employee, was flushing sewers in the manhole just south of Winthrop St. at the east end of the old Windsor Hotel, this morning about 9 o'clock, when he was seriously hurt by one of a team of EVANS Transfer horses stepping into the open flushtank, and striking him on the head. The driver did not see that the tank was uncovered. One of the horses hind legs went down into the tank onto PATTERSON. The horse was rescued from his perilous position and then PATTERSON was taken out. A Doctor was at once summoned, and after his injuries had been temporarily dressed he was taken to his home. Dr. SELLARDS found him in great pain and suffering from a bad cut in the face. PATTERSON also complained of his side.

Viola KIDWELL was a cashier for the Farmers and Bankers Life Insurance Company, Lawrence, Ks. They reproduced the following article. No dates were given.

A PATRIOTIC FAMILY

We were asked to reproduce the clipping printed below, as the various branches of the KIDWELL family each wishes to preserve a copy in the family records. We do not know what paper it is taken from. We are glad to reprint the article with a few other facts we have learned of this unusual family of brothers. There were ten of them when the war broke out--William, George, Thomas, John, Luna, Henry, David, Joe, James and Joshua. All of them, except the last two, served through the war in the Union army. James was in the service of the government as a mail carrier, and Joshua was too young. Thomas was killed in battle. David and Luna were killed by guerrillas in Missouri shortly after Lee's surrender. All the others lived to return to their home. Henry KIDWELL was the husband of the Mrs. KIDWELL now living in Barnard. He died in Eastern Kansas Nov. 24, 1889 and is buried in the soldiers' cemetery at Fort Scott.

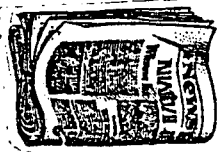

It will be noted that six of the KIDWELL boys were in one company;

"W.L. Roney, Co. F. 8th Mo. S, M. Cav. Marquette, Kansas, writes: "I send a list, alphabetically, of brothers in company to which I belonged. I was First Sergeant most of the time, and have called the roll so often that the names are all fresh in my memory. There were 23 sets of brothers in the company; six in one set, four in another, three in two sets, and the remainder pairs. The sets were as follows: Granvill F. BRYANT, William BRYANT; John BISHOP, Richard BISHOP; John BLAKE, Joseph BLAKE; Geo. T. DELOSIER, Edward B. DELOSIER; Jesse A. EATON, William H. EATON; John GLENN, James GLENN; John L. NATIONAL GUARD MOBILIZED FOR THE DISPUTE AND
POSSIBLE WAR WITH MEXICO

Abstracted from the Lawrence Daily Gazette, Lawrence, Kansas, Thursday, June 22, 1916. Contributed by Dorothy CLARKE, the daughter of Captain Samuel G. CLARK.

GOOD-BYE SAID IN TEARS

The Lawrence soldiers have gone. At 8:35 o'clock this morning, amid a roar of cheers, shouts of farewell, and a shriek of whistles, their troop train pulled slowly away from the Union Pacific station, with soldier boys showing at every window of three long cars, leaving a crowd of thousands behind, hat and flags waving, and with many a tearful eye.

The boys who left this morning included Co. H and the Hospital Corps, to which organization practically all the Lawrence boys belong. In Company H were eighty men, with the exception of a few men who will join the command at Fort Riley and a recruiting detail which includes Lieutenant Guy WALLING, Corporal Clinton KANAGA, and privates George SMITH and Cameron SHAFFER. The Hospital Corps included forty-eight men, one or two of whom will also join their corps at the fort.

The soldiers who left Lawrence today numbered 134, which included eighty in Company H, forty-four in the medical corps, and ten members of the supply company. Following is the complete list of the officers and men who left this morning.

PIONEER MIDWIFE
Reprinted from Jan. 1959

This article was taken from Ford Times, Ford Meter Box Co., January, 1980.

The hospital news in our local paper lists the births, and while there may be some babies born in private homes in this community they're either extremely rare or don't get into print. In most of our country nearly all deliveries are in hospitals, and doctors are in attendance at a large percentage of the others. As a result, loss of babies in childbirth is uncommon and loss of mothers has approached zero.

The story of my grandmother makes an interesting contrast. She died before I was born but my mother told me memories of her childhood when Grandmother evidently served as midwife for a large number of farm families back in the 1870's. Grandmother had eight children of her own, did all the managing and much of the work in running the home on the farm, and still had time to help all the neighbors in times of illness, birth and death. Pay for such service was unthought of.

Mother recalled many times when, as a little child, she would be awakened in the night by a man coming to their home on horseback, hearing a short muffled conversation, then Grandmother riding away on a farm horse, lantern in one hand and a bag hanging on the saddle. Grandmother would generally be back at breakfast but none of the children felt bold enough to ask what had happened. They had learned that if they waited patiently for a while it would be mentioned in a casual way that some neighbor had a baby born last night.

There is no way of knowing what losses, if any, my grandmother had in her midwife service. She was lacking in many things now considered necessary in obstetrics, and I suppose our present-day obstetricians wonder how Grandmother (and the countless other "grandmothers" of a century ago) could do as well as she did. But no doctor could have served less selfishly or with more devotion and tender loving care, and these things may be almost as important in most cases as the modern techniques and equipment in our fine new hospitals.

The following is a copy of a review by Louise M. EVERTON of a book by one of our members, Dr. Thomas GORTON. It appeared in the November-December, 1982 issue of The Genealogical Helper.

SAMUEL GORTON OF RHODE ISLAND AND HIS DESCENDANTS, 1982. Published by Gateway Press, Inc. Written by and available from Thomas GORTON, 831 Illinois Street, Lawrence, KS 66044. Hardbound, 6x9 inches, 568 pages, indexed, $30.00.

An attempt to trace the lineage of as many living descendants of Samuel GORTON as possible and to provide a new historical biography of the champion of political and religious freedom, drawing largely upon original source material, are the twofold purposes of this history. Samuel GORTON, a towering Colonial figure of whom his descendants might well be proud, was an early Governor of Rhode Island and founder of the town of Warwick. He was born in the chapelry of Gorton, city of Manchester, Lancashire, England. He was baptized on 12 February 1592/93. Samuel married, sometime before 1630, Mary MAPLETT in England, they were parents to nine surviving children. Samuel and Mary, several small children and Mary's middle-aged servant, Ellen ALDRIDGE, arrived in Boston from England about March 1636/37. This family's movements to Plymouth, Aquidneck, Providence, Pawtuxet, Shawomet, back to England and then again returning to America are chronicled by the author. Twelve generations of the Samuel and Mary GORTON family are included in this fine history. A numbering system has been used to easily identify each descendant. A full-name index completes this fine history.

SLAVES IN LECOMPTON

Yes, through research, we have found some interesting stories of the early slaves of Lecompton. In the Lawrence Daily Journal World, March 13, 1933, it states "The first census of Kansas, taken February 28, 1855, showed there were 151 free Negroes and 193 slaves. During the years 1854, 1855 and 1856, the slave population increased to over 400, owned by about fifty slaveholders. But when it became apparent that the Free State men were in the majority in Kansas, and the slave code was abolished by the first state legislature, February 23, 1860, the slave owners left the Territory and took their slaves with them.

In 1855, Col. H. T. TITUS and George W. CLARKE, of Lecompton, jointly owned a slave named Ann CLARKE. She ran away to Topeka, but was arrested and returned to her masters; but soon after escaped again and succeeded in making her way, through the underground railway, to Chicago.

Douglas City, a short distance below Lecompton, on the Kaw river, is one of the ghost towns of Douglas county. There were two slaveholders in Douglas City; Mr. ELLISON and Mr. WALLIS. A slave named Buck JONES, owned by Mr. DOUGLAS, in Lecompton, bought his freedom by working for wages in Lecompton.

The Lecompton Union, (newspaper) in 1856, offered a reward of $50 for the return of "Judy" a slave, who was supposed to be secreted in Lawrence.

A Mr. BROOKS, in Lecompton, in 1855-56, owned four slaves. Judge Rush ELMORE of the Kansas Territorial Supreme Court, brought fourteen slaves from Alabama to Lecompton; but soon removed them to his farm, one mile south of Tecumseh, in Shawnee county.

There were slaves in Jefferson County. A man named SKAGGS in Kentucky township, owned twenty-seven; but took them to Texas in 1859. Our subject was one of these slaves, as he is listed in the 1855 census, as living with his owner James SKAGGS, on the list of settlers on the Kansas Half Breed lands opposite Douglas City, east of Lecompton. Also is listed in this same census Mr. Wm. F. BAYNE, whom our subject mentions in his article who was his wife's master.

The following article was found in "The Lecompton Sun" Friday, June 24, 1904. We thought this article would be interesting to our readers, as this slave Robert SKEGGS (SKAGGS) is buried at East View Cemetery, at Big Springs, Kansas. The home that he bought is now owned by Art and Ethel PETERSILIE on County Road #1025, northeast of Big Springs in Douglas County.

Robert SKEGGS (SKAGGS) who lives in the south west part of this township, is the only man on earth who was a slave in the city of Lecompton. Our illustration is a pretty fair likeness of Mr. SKEGGS as he looks today. Mr. SKEGGS' history would read like a story from another world; as indeed it is. Half of his life was spent in slavery, he having been almost 40 years old when his master told him he was free. The old gentleman says he is nearly 82 years old and the way he first learned his age was at the time of his old master's death when the appraisers were fixing the value of the slaves before dividing the property. His young master gave his age as the same as that of his sister and she was 25. His young master took him at $700. though the slave trader in his old home in Kentucky said, if they would put him on the block he would start him at $1800. for he knew his trade would sell him well. He was a blacksmith. His master, James SKEGGS, brought him to Kansas in 1853, and they settled and built a cabin in Jefferson county on the farm that Matt JONES sold to Charles STARK a few years ago. Mr. SKEGGS remembers when there was only one house in Lecompton and that was a "whiskey house." When he was a slave he hewed, in the timber, the frame work for the house that Mr. LEAMER lived in for so many years and was torn down to give place to his present residence. When Kansas was admitted as a free state, his master took him to Texas where he worked six years a slave and two years a free man before he got money to come back to Kansas and see his wife's old master, Billy BAYNES, who lived near Williamstown in Jefferson county. The story of Mr. BAYNES' help and friendship and the magnanimous way in which he gave Mrs. SKEGGS her freedom is a chapter by itself and can not be told at this time. Mr. SKEGGS spent his first year of freedom farming on the shares; he got the ninth row of corn or one bushel to the other man's eight. His wife worked for her clothes and victuals and the clothes and victuals of two of his sister's children that she was raising. The second year he got half and that year made enough to "come back" to Kansas.

ROBERT SKEGGS

Mr. SKEGGS and his wife are well respected by their neighbors. They are honest, peacable, hardworking, colored people. They own the farm where they live and owe no man a dollar. They are kind and hospitable and bear no resentment to the system that kept them in slavery so long, and yet so long ago that a new generation has grown up that never saw a human being that was once called the property of others. Mr. SKEGGS often comes to town when he has business here and never otherwise, for he is in no sense a loafer. He has promised to attend the celebration at Lecompton, July 4th, and if his wife is able to come he will bring her along.

The old man says that when he was informed by his master he was free, he did not have a cent in the world, did not know where the next meal was coming from, "but I didn't worry. I knew if I could make a living for myself and him too, I could get along some way with him left off."

Col. NACE, Mr. & Mrs. Wm. LEAMER, and a few other old settlers remember Mr. SKEGGS from slavery days and they say his word is reliable.

Books for the Athaeneum.

Several books have been received from Mr. Amos A. LAWRENCE and Mrs. Mary WEBB, of Boston, for the Lawrence Athaeneum, and a large addition to those already received will be sent on to this city early in the spring, when navigation opens.

Our Athaeneum, though young and in its infancy, starts with fair prospects of becoming one of the first Literary Institutions in the country. May it prosper, and shed its benign influences over the minds of all the inhabitants of Kansas, is no doubt the ardent wish of its pioneer founders.

Chart of Lawrence

Gen. S.C. POMEROY who has recently arrived from Massachusetts, brought with him several beautiful and well-executed charts of Lawrence, as surveyed by Mr. A.D. SEARL, of this city, in October last. It was lithographed by L.D. BRADFORD and Co., of Boston, on a scale of 450 feet to the inch. Every lot is numbered on the different streets in regular order. It is an elegant piece of workmanship, and speaks well for the artists who were engaged upon it. The streets, thirty-two in number, running north and south, are named after the several States of the Union. Thirteen of the streets in the eastern part of the city are named after the thirteen original States. The balance of the streets west of Massachusetts street are named after the remaining nineteen States, in the order in which they were admitted into the Union — California street being at the extreme western limits of the city. — What has of late been called Main street is now named after the Old Bay State. — The streets running east and west are named in honor of distinguished men, who have done something in the sacred cause of liberty. Ten Parks are laid out within the city. Oread Mount is set apart for schools and churches; Capitol Hill for colleges, county buildings, etc. Five of these Parks have been named respectively in honor of Roger Williams, Washington, La Fayette, Hamilton, and Franklin.
