Western Home Journal, Lawrence, Ks., Feb. 23, 1882

The sleighing was pronounced first-rate yesterday, and the local editor had a very agreeable sample of it by a ride behind the ponies of Mr. Geo. R. GOULD. The merry tinkling of the bells resounded to a late hour last night.

Western Home Journal, May 4, 1882, Lawrence, Ks.

Full Measure

Our friend Wm. GIBSON, has several times laid us under obligations for the freshest of early vegetables, and never did we find the measure stinted. William is a trifle over six feet in stature himself, which shows that he descends from a race certainly not stingy in bone and muscle. Billy is willing to give as good as he receives, and proves it by the advent of an eleven pound boy, who will date his birth April 26, 1882. We like to chronicle a full round act, and so should have been glad if Billy had made this a full dozen, but he claims that the youth has enough of good looks to make up for half a dozen pounds, so Mr. GIBSON still has considerable the advantage of us. We hope he may prove an honor to his parents, with as good and even a larger heart than his father.

1867 DIARY OF DR. RICHARD MORRIS
LAWRENCE, KANSAS

On the following pages is an abstract from an 1867 diary kept by Dr. Richard MORRIS of Lawrence, Ks. The diary, which has been given to the Douglas County Historical Society, was discovered about 50 years ago by James D. WATSON, M.D. of Colorado Springs, when he was a student at the University of Kansas. The diary was in a house on the lot where the north portion of the Plymouth Congregational Church now stands (925 Vermont).

Dr. R. MORRIS, physician and surgeon, was born in Highland County, Ohio, April 15, 1824. He was born and lived on a farm until he was about twenty years of age. In the fall of 1840, he moved with his parents to Fulton Co., Ill. He received his early education in his native state. After settling in Illinois, he engaged for a while in teaching school. In 1844, he commenced his academical course at Cherry Grove Seminary, Knox Co., Ill. In 1847, he began his professional studies with Abraham HULL, M.D., of Marietta, Ill., and continued his course of studies with this gentleman about three years. After engaging in practice a short time, he entered Rush Medical College, in Chicago, Ill., graduating in February, 1851. He then located in Hermon, Knox Co., Ill., where he followed his profession alone until January, 1855, when on solicitation he formed a partnership in the practice of medicine, with his old perceptor of Ellisville, Ill., and continued in active practice until the fall of 1861. The following winter, while taking a short rest from his labors, he attended lectures again at Rush Medical College. In November, 1862, he was appointed Surgeon of the One Hundred and Third Regiment Illinois Infantry Volunteers, with the rank of Major. During the last year of the war, he was Chief Surgeon of the First Division of the Fifteenth Army Corps, commanded by Brevt. Brig. Gen. William B. WOODS. On the close of the war, he returned to Galesburg, Ill., and in the same year moved to Kansas, settled in Lawrence, and in April, 1866, resumed the practice of his profession, in which he has since been constantly engaged. Dr. MORRIS was, while in Illinois, an active member of the Knox County (Ill.) Medical Society. He is at present a member of the Kansas State Medical Society, of which he was first Vice President in 1874. He is also a member of the Eastern Kansas District Medical Society, of the State Board of Medical Examiners, of Douglas County Medical Society, and of Lawrence Lodge, No. 4, I.O.O.F. The Doctor is now Coroner of Douglas County, to which office he has been elected three times in succession. He is also County Physician, which position he has held during the last five years. He further held the office of City Physician and Medical Health Officer of the city of Lawrence for the term of four years. Dr. MORRIS was married May 31, 1855, to Miss Belinda R. HAPTONSTALL, of Hermon, Knox County, Ill. They have three children living—Clara L. (now Mrs. L.H. PERKINS), Fred Le Roy and Nellie Vie.

1867. DIARY OF DR. RICHARD MORRIS

- Tuesday, Jan. 1, 1867: All hail the new year. Very cold. 5° below zero. Not much excitement. Had settlement with Dr. RUSSELL. And an understanding concerning our co-partnership in medicine. Expenses and profits to be shared equally.
- Jan. 2: Weather moderating some. Business dull as we expected it would be after the holidays.

THE EARTHQUAKE.

Our city was the scene of the liveliest excitement, about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, that it has been our fortune to witness. There is no doubt but this section was honored with a veritable, genuine, old-fashioned earthquake—one that would be a credit to localities a little closer to the quaky regions of the globe.

We were pursuing our usual avocation, on the third story of the building, everything quieter than usual, when suddenly, without warning, the building commenced shaking in a manner that plainly indicated something wrong. Our first impression was that the floor was giving way, and accordingly we made a hasty transit to the corridor at the head of the stairs. At this juncture the compositors and printers came rushing out of their rooms with an alacrity that was surprising, and someone exclaimed that the building was falling. The continued and increasing shaking of the whole building fully justified that view, and we suddenly came to the conclusion that we wanted to get out, and that badly, too. We started to go down stairs, but the thought struck us that going down two long flights of stairs, with a three-story brick building traveling the same direction, was not quite the thing. In this dilemma, one of the boys threw up the window opening on the roof of the adjoining building, and if ever a set of fellows went through a window in less time, we want them to come here and let us see them do it. We ran to the cone of the roof, and found it was shaking as badly as the one left, and accordingly ran to the next roof. It was jarring very perceptibly, and, looking down in the street, we saw the whole city going through about the same maneuver that we were at. Every one was rushing out in the street, and fellows engaged on the upper stories were coming down, six steps at a jump, hair flying and eyes popped out, in a way that showed something the matter. As soon as we saw it was a general complaint we felt easier, and left our perch for the street. When we went down the whole city was out, and everyone concurred that it was a serious shock. Everything of a movable nature was rattled in an alarming manner, and in many places plastering was cracked and fell from the walls. A large stone was loosened and fell from the top of the Unitarian Church, and in many houses and stores small articles were thrown from the walls. There is no denying that it was a rather serious scene, and we saw a good many white faces on the street, after it was over.

From the telegraph operator we learn it was felt at St. Jo., Leavenworth, Wyandotte, and as far west as the railroad line extends. It lasted about one and a half minutes, according to the report of persons who profess to have timed it. There is no doubt but something is wrong with the internal arrangements of Mother Earth; but it is to be hoped she will attempt to rectify it in other sections, and not take her medicine in Kansas.

The current of the river was checked by the earthquake, causing it to rise in waves of some height. A tub nearly full of water, in front of Filley & DeWolf's store, was almost emptied by the shock.

Nothing was talked of, or thought of, last evening, but the earthquake. Every one had his or her experience to relate, and the whole history of earthquakes was overhauled, and a great many theories advanced, and speculations as to the cause, etc. One little boy gave as plausible a solution as any one that we heard. He gravely informed a companion, who was evidently not so well posted, that he "guessed the earth had the belly ache." We judge that boy will be a professor in a district school yet. We could find no one who was frightened, or felt any fear at the time of the occurrence. One fellow was detailing his coolness, when another impolitely exclaimed, "What in the h--l did you run down stairs so fast for, if you wasn't scared?" "Run!" said our hero, "Why, I ran out to see what was the matter." That was just the way with us—we simply went out at the window to see if anything was up.

Kansas Daily Tribune, Nov. 3, 1867, Lawrence, Ks.

SHOT.—A son of Mr. John SCHOTT, of this city, was accidentally shot through the hand. The wound was dressed by Dr. FULLER, and we are glad to learn is not likely to prove serious.

LOCAL MATTERS

Lawrence Business--One of our business men informs us, that on last Saturday, he counted the teams in town and found one hundred and sixty-five in one street. If that don't look as if Lawrence was a business town, we have no conception of what would. It was no extraordinary occasion and scarcely indicated a difference from the ordinary business of our place. Frequently citizens of other points of the state are heard to express great surprise at these exhibitions of the active business enterprise of our beautiful city.

MAJOR DAVID STARR HOYT

THE HERALD OF FREEDOM, Lawrence, Saturday, June 27, 1857

Major HOYT, who was assassinated last summer, near Fort Saunders, and hastily buried by his friends on Rock Creek eight miles from Lawrence, was disinterred on Tuesday last, the 23rd and brought to this place and buried with military honors.

The services were conducted in the Unitarian Church, with the choir furnishing some beautiful music. The Rev. LOVEJOY delivered an oration, and the Lawrence Brass Band closed with one of their mournful and solemn airs.

His remains were followed to the grave by the Oread Guards and by a large concourse of citizens, accompanied by music from the Band.

He lies buried between the lamented BARBER and the brave SHOMBE, in the Lawrence burying ground. So long as men love liberty and hate slavery, so long as they venerate the brave and true, so long as they love principle more than life, so long will they visit the graves of these martyrs to liberty to strengthen their manhood, increase their courage, and kindle the flame of patriotism by the memories of the glorious dead.

David Starr HOYT was born in Deerfield, Mass., in the year 1821. He was therefore 35 years old, at the time of his death. He leaves behind an orphan child, a daughter, aged six years. He served in Scott's army in Mexico, and was in every battle from Vera Cruz to the City of Mexico. He was considered a brave and valuable soldier. He was a scholar and a man of varied attainments. In 1852, he was with Stephen's surveying party, in running out the Northern Pacific Railroad route, from Oregon to Wisconsin. His services were highly appreciated and well rewarded by the Government.

In March, 1856, he came to Kansas with a quantity of Sharp's rifles, which were taken from him at Lexington on the Missouri River. From that time forward he served the cause of freedom faithfully and without interruption, until the time of his death.

In the summer of 1856, the Georgia guerilla companies concentrated under Col. TREADWELL, and commenced building fortifications and furnishing themselves with military stores on Washington Creek, ten miles southwest of Lawrence, on the claim of a Mr. SAUNDERS.

Word went out from this post and others of a similar character that all the Free-state men must leave the Territory or be killed, but that any Free Mason might come in and he should be safe. The settlers became alarmed at these frequent threats and applied to Major SEDGWICK, commander of the U.S. dragoons at LeCompton to drive them away, or allow them to go do it. Major SEDGWICK sent over an officer with a company of soldiers, to examine into it, and gather information. The officer reported that there was a company of Southern men building a town and the logs they were hauling were for cabins. New developments continued to alarm the inhabitants, and they applied to the people of Lawrence for assistance. In order to determine what course should be pursued, it became necessary to send a messenger to Col. TREADWELL to ascertain what his objects and intentions were.

Major HOYT volunteered to go. Trusting to the honor of Col. TREADWELL as a brother Mason, he expressed perfect confidence in the safety of the enterprise. He left Lawrence in the afternoon of August 11, 1856, entirely unarmed and stayed all night with a friend, (Augustus WATTLES), near Bloomington, and in the morning went over to Washington Creek to Saunders Fort.

Major David Starr HOYT (con't.)

He stayed there until after dinner, left, was followed out on the prairie by three men and shot. Early next morning, word came in that a man was shot near the Fort Saunders by the Georgians who were under Col. TREADWELL. Two boys who were near the scene of action, witnessed the deed. As Major HOYT did not return as was expected, his friends became painfully anxious for his fate. A large company of Free State men gathered, and established a camp at Dr. E.G. MACY's, on Rock Creek. They sent over a company of thirty men, under the command of Capt. SHOMBE, to search for the body.

They called upon Col. TREADWELL for information as to where it was buried, but could get none. After searching nearly all day without success, they fortunately met a company of surveyors who had seen the grave, and directed them to it. He was doubled up and thrown into a hole, his knees projecting from the ground. They took him up, placed him in a wagon, and then carried him to the camp. On being examined by the physicians, it was discovered that he had been shot from behind, the fatal ball entering the back of the head and passing out at the forehead. His face was thickly covered with corrosive sublimate, so as to destroy his identity as soon as possible, and probably in twelve hours more, it would have been destroyed. A strong box was provided by Henry HIATT of Bloomington, in which his remains were deposited, and he was temporarily buried in a beautiful grove on the banks of Rock Creek. He has lain there in peace a little over ten months, when our citizens have performed the last sad rite of burial, by consigning him to his final resting place.

Note: It is not surprising that Henry HIATT would provide a burial box for Major HOYT. Prior to his own death in 1900 at the age of 84, he completed a coffin for himself which he carved from a large log.

Editor of the Journal:

Clinton, May 20, 1882

Mr. Carson WICKS has been quite sick in the last few weeks, but is now able to be up and around. He expects to move to Lawrence before long.

Capt. G.W. UMBARGER, an old settler of Douglas County, will move to Barbour county before long, where he expects to make his future home.

Mr. William and Clarence WICKS are talking of going West before long.

Mr. Ira STEELE, of Belvoir, has sent a large drove of cattle to Barbour county.

A good many in this neighborhood are planting sugar cane quite extensively. They evidently do not expect to waste any sweetness on the desert air next fall.

History of Eudora Area Churches.

Eudora has always had many different churches because it's early settlers came from Europe where you find a church on nearly every hill and down in the valley. They are very old and historic churches and well kept. Many have beautiful murals and paintings in them because the people could not read the Bible so the pictures told the Bible story from the Creation to the start of the early churches.

The Church was important to our European settlers as a vital part of their religious and social life. Soon after Eudora was settled in 1857 worship was started in homes as Missions, then in larger buildings until the membership grew so a church building was built.

The first known church services in Eudora was before its founding when the Shawnee Indian Chief Paschal Fish, Jr. asked for a Mission school here to provide schooling and religion for his Tribe and others children. The Wakarusa Shawnee Indian Methodist Mission was built at about 1215 Elm Street.

The Mission was a two story, rough-hewn building of native lumber with a thatched roof and Dr. Abram Still was the Missionary in charge of building the Mission school and director. He was a Methodist Minister a medical doctor, teacher, carpenter and farmer. One son, Dr. A. T. Still practiced here and founded Osteopathy and another son, Dr. James Still practiced here many years at 806 Main St. The Still's gave land and helped to start Baker University.

Chief Fish, Jr. was also a licensed Minister by the Methodist Church and helped with church services. The Mission started in 1851 and probably closed in 1854 because of the slavery problem. Then Circuit Preachers continued to serve Eudora until the churches were established.

The next earliest church is the Clearfield Evangelical, now United Methodist, which began as a Class Meeting by German Evangelicals in 1858 with a Circuit Rider Missionary Preacher, who sometimes could come only once in three months. These preachers usually wore out several horses each year and lived only at an average age of thirty-five. They often slept on the prairie grass which was taller than their head when seated on their horse. They had only a few trails, practically no bridges and rode in the heat, dust, rain, storms, sleet, severe cold, snow and wind.

When the Preacher came to a certain area the word got around and people came for miles around, walking, in lumber wagons, buggies and on horseback. They brought a basket dinner and spent the entire day in worship and Christian fellowship. People from other denominations came too as some preachers could only get around once in six weeks or so.

Later when schools were built church worship was held in them until churches could be erected.

Clearfield was first called Captain's Creek and was a part of the Evangelical Mission Circuit of Franklin. Sermons were in German there but communication was difficult because these German pioneers came from different provinces in Germany and each province spoke German a little differently.

In 1861 a Camp meeting was held on the Schendel and Meeder farms and they lasted a week and people lived in their wagons and they held them when the moon was full.

In 1880 the Clearfield Church was built on land donated by George Hausman. The head carpenter was William Deckwa who organized the men and members did the building themselves. The original Chancel railing is still in use in the present church. The men made the pews and a high railing down the middle of the church to separate the men and women, a common practice, also in the Quaker, Methodist and other early churches.

When the wind was strong, plaster fell on the heads of the worshippers until George Schattenberg put in a beautiful wooden ceiling. Kerosene lamps and wood burning stoves were used until 1907 or 8.

Acetylene lights were used until 1917.

In 1945 the Evangelicals merged with the United Brethren to form the Evangelical United Brethren Church and in 1968 merged with the Methodist Church to form the United Methodist Church. Clearfield E.U.B. and Salem E.U.B. in Eudora shared the same pastor until 1966 and then Clearfield was joined with Worden.

Little information is available about Harmony Free Methodist Church but a group started in 1856 from the Methodist Circuit rider days in the Harmony schoolhouse six miles south and two and one half miles west of Eudora on the north side of the road until 1857 when a church was built one half mile east and one half mile south of the school on the John Edmond Nichols farm. Mrs. Nichols funeral was the last religious service held in the building Aug., 1918. Rev. Lovejoy was a Methodist Circuit Preacher but felt he had more "elbow room" with Free Methodists and was the minister there. This seemed to be an English speaking church.

Captain's Creek Methodist Church was organized in 1859 as a German speaking Class Meeting on the Johnson, Douglas County line, southeast of Eudora. Brother August Mecke served the church first, no regular minister was available except Circuit preachers. During the Civil War, Eudora and Captain's Creek were with Lawrence on a Circuit. This church was often called "Little Blue" because the walls were painted blue inside at one time. The building was erected in 1882 on land donated by the Joe Millers. The land first belonged to a Shawnee Indian named Adams. He sold it to Ed Knabe's father. Ed's widow married Joe Miller.

Captain's Creek and Eudora Methodist were served by the same minister until 1955 when Eudora secured a full time pastor. When Captain's Creek disbanded a few years later some came to Eudora, Clearfield, Edgerton and Gardner. The building is on the Wesley Brecheisen farm and used for storage.

The German Methodist Church began with Class Meetings in 1859 jointly with Captain's Creek and Lawrence Circuit. This group purchased the home at 6th and Main Street in 1870. Worship was on the second floor and the minister lived downstairs.

In 1881 a new frame church was built between eighth and ninth street on Church Street on the west side while Rev. John Ehrman was the minister and in 1884 a parsonage was built by Frank Brender but it burned in 1926. This church was torn down and parts of it were used in the building of the home at 825 Locust St.

Some of the 1868 records mention these people: C. Steinmeyer, H. Rausch, J. Gutknecht, Fr. Weibel, A. Bromelsick, Julius S. Miller, F. W. Meyer, Hunziker, Trorigott (early German name meaning Trust) Gabriel, Holzappel, D. Muller or Mutter, Ed Cape.

The local minister H. Meyer was reminded to have a written report of local conditions of parsonage which had been built in Lawrence, papering etc. and if he retracted what he said his license would be renewed. A supervisory committee was appointed Aug. 1868 of Three men to examine the character of the minister and another committee of three men were appointed to examine the minister's license to preach. He must have met their requests as he was granted a new license.

In 1893 some members were: C. Eberhardt, Bartz, Albrecht, Schafer, H. Gabriel, Brinkmeyer, Gus Rosenau, Henry Abels, Wuensch, Albert Baecker, W. Gabriel, A. Gabriel, Walters, Kanzig, Havercamp, Bohnsack, Schutte. Approval for membership list was; Anna Gabriel, Bertha Knopp, Carry (Carrie) Abel, and Brothe Lapple is to be excused from attending because of his health, and Brother Albrecht demanded his membership certificate or he would withdraw.

In 1893 Lawrence was voted to be removed from the Circuit and Captain's Creek and Eudora would have alternate services in morning and afternoon. Members sent flour and grain to western Kansas people because of the drought.

In 1895 Freddie Trefz and George Broers were recommended for membership and a committee appointed to buy land to build a horse barn on.

In 1896 people approved for membership after the regular six months probation were; Joseph Broers, Frank Broers, Willie Spitzli, Eddie Bartz, George Schafer, George Schneider, Lydia Albrecht, Lizzie Eberhardt and Tillie Ziesenis.

Hesper Friends Church (originally called Quakers) first met at the home of Jonathan and Phebe Mendenhall in 1861, one mile east of Hesper. In 1862 the group was granted a Preparative Meeting called Springfield. A meeting house twenty-four feet square was built of native lumber hauled from Leavenworth. (This area was mostly prairie bluestem grass in those days, few trees!)

The first families besides the Mendenhalls were; George T. Rogers, William and Penelope Gardner, Winslow, Margaret and Adela Davis, John Hills, most all from North Carolina. They were against slavery, military service, oaths, lotteries and paying wages to ministers but even in early years had women ministers. They spent much time in worship by silent meditation.

In 1864 the Kansas Quarterly Meeting granted them a Monthly Meeting. In 1871 members living east of Captain's Creek in Johnson County was granted a Preparative Meeting and in 1872 named it Centre. In 1882 a new meeting house was built, a thirty by fifty foot building at Hesper and the name changed from Springfield to the name of the town, Hesper.

The Church started planning for an Academy and in 1884 started the two year High School called Hesper Academy which served until Eudora High School was built in 1915. The Church also provided for a Cemetery near the Church. English was spoken at Hesper, which was three miles south and one mile east of Eudora.

The Catholic Church at 300 east 9th Street is the oldest church building in the area. The members organized in 1863 but they must have worshipped together before then because we are told that a Jewish merchant (probably Asher and Cohn) let the Catholic congregation worship in their general store when a priest could come to town. (Eudora has always been ecumenically minded citizen's). We have also read that one man in early days walked the seven miles to Lawrence to worship in a Catholic service, taking all day for the trip and service.

The Catholic Church, Holy Family Church, building first was a 20X48 ft. room on the southeast built in 1864 by the people. John Kellerman owned land east of Eudora where the limestone rock was quarried. Men who hauled the stones with horse and wagons were, Jacob Pabst, Mike Branagan, John Welch and James Brazil. Masons were Casper Weber and Franz Blechel and some good Lutherans, which was referring to the St. Paul Evangelical Church members. Other men helping were; Fred Faerber (Eudora's first mayor), Anton Gufler, LW. Pfeif and Leo Vitt. Carpenter's were, Joseph Hertz, Peter Hartig (Captain of the first group of Germans to settle Eudora), and John Kellerman, who also made a beautiful Altar. They made the inside trim and furniture too.

There was not enough money to buy a bell, so all of Eudora's people gave money to buy a bell to be rung at 7:00 a.m., 12 noon and 6:00 p.m. as it still is. It is now in front of the new Church. Mr. Greiner rang it for many years.

German and Latin was spoken in the church and it maintains a cemetery and for many years had a Parochial School for elementary students and provided a home for the Sisters who taught the children.

St. Paul Evangelical Church was organized Dec. 27, 1868 by Rev. Christian Haas under the auspices of the Evangelical Synod of North America. This group of Germans met in homes until the first church was completed in 1871. The present building was built in 1913 and services were started in English in 1916. In 1919 one Sunday per month worship was in German. In 1934 this church joined the Reformed Church and the Union of the Congregational Christian Church and is now known as the St. Paul United Church of Christ.

Charter members were; Christian Thoren, Conrad and W. Altenbernd, Anton and Anna Gerstenberger, Ferdinand Vitt, Gottlob Koch, Henry Loesch, Christian Strobel, Christian Schneider, Charles Vogelsand, Henrich Wittler, P.G. Wagner, F. Fleer, G. Buck, Philip Feld, George Lench, T.B. Torneden, Karl Gantz, T.L. Haelsig, Johann Thnow, Leonard Frey, Jeremiah Schlegel, Albert Bagelmann, Adolph Lotz, and Rev. Haas.

The Salem Evangelical Church at 716 Church Street was organized as a German speaking Class Meeting in 1869. The Church was built in 1870, a 26X 40 ft. brick building. The Church was started by Jacob and Christine Strobel. He and his daughters, Caroline and Pauline carried water from the Wakarusa River, over two blocks, uphill, for the mortar for the bricks.

Worden, Clearfield, Stull and Eudora were once on a circuit together. Rev. John Wereth organized the church here in 1871 and some of these charter members were; Peter Neis, Sr., Fred Neis, Sr., Jake Meyers, Jacob Otts, Ernsts and Yosts. In early 1900 only Eudora and Clearfield were on the same circuit. The church joined with the United Brethren Church in 1945.

The building was enlarged by a south lecture room and belfry in 1905. The rear Annex was built in 1956. The entry way window is the Star of David but we do not know why.

The Building has been owned by the United Methodist Church since the merger with the Methodists in 1966 and Salem Chapel, as it is now called is loaned to the Eudora Youth Service Organization for youth activities as Boy and Girl Scouts, Cubs and Brownies, 4-H, and adult meetings. The EYSO is to keep it in repair but this is a service project of the other Eudora organizations, as well as individuals.

Prairie Center had a Friends Church and a Free Methodist Church. The Friends began in 1869 but we do not know when the Methodist began but their second church was built in 1917. These churches were in Johnson County.

The Friends Church was started from Hesper Friends and that was called Springfield. Prairie Center was first called just, CENTRE Meeting. In 1888 the spelling was changed to CENTER and in 1894 to Prairie Center.

The first building had a gallery and two steps up where visiting friends and ministers sat although they no pastors then but just religious leaders in the church that were felt to lead and speak. Some of these speakers were; Philander Blackledge, Benjamin Nicholson, William Andrew and Jimmy Vestal. The latter sometimes sang as well as spoke from memory. David Vestal and Jesse Coltrane were head of the meeting and faced the congregation. When the sun was shining and was straight in the south door they dismissed the meeting by shaking hands. We do not know when they stopped on cloudy days.

One wedding ceremony was performed by the the couple sitting and facing each other on a bench in silence and finally standing and repeating their vows.

In 1894 a new church or meeting house was built and Tilghman Couch and Sibyl Andrew sat at the men and women's meeting. Eusebia Couch, mother of Verlan Couch, a Eudora resident many years, ministered for over twenty years and led a Young peoples group, Christian Endeavor.

In 1901 a free will offering was taken to pay the ministers and in 1911 Frank E. Jones asked for pay as a pastor of $8.00 per week in money and a donation of 8 pullets or hens and hay and grain for twenty weeks in winter for the stock and an occasional donation of groceries or wood or both.

The government bought the land and the church in 1942 for the Sunflower Ordnance Works but sold the church building back to the Friends where they moved it one-half mile west and one and one half miles south of Prairie Center but in 1959 it was moved to Gardner and called Gardner Monthly Meeting of Friends.

Kaw Valley Methodist Church was probably organized in early 1870 by English speaking people who settled in the Kaw Valley area, northwest of Eudora. The church building was sold in 1888 to the Solon Gilmore's, who moved it to their farm, a short distance east and who used it for a carriage house.

The Church was located west of a brick house where the Jack Hughes family lived many years, about three and one-half miles northwest on the old Eudora Road, also called East 15th Street road.

This church was started before the English speaking Methodist Church of 1885 was started in Eudora because the Gilmores were among the organizers of the English church and Mrs. Gilmore was the first secretary.

There were two churches for the large group of Black people here in the Eudora area that probably started about the time the Civil War ended in 1864 or the early 1870's. One was the Union Church and the other was the Methodist Church. The Black Methodists held services in the Union church on the first and third Sundays at first and the Union congregation on the second and fourth Sundays.

The Union Church was between 6th and 7th Street on Church Street, on the east side. Rev. Dudley Lee was one of the Pastors. The Methodist group built a church nearby at 610 Church street but disbanded it in 1920 and it is now a residence.

The present church, The First Missionary Baptist Church was built in April 1896 when Rev. George Burdett was pastor. He was also a carpenter. At one time this church had one hundred and twenty-five members but no longer has services due to lack of attendance as very few black people live in the area any more and those who do are quite elderly.

For many years Eudora merchants gave money to help keep the church operating when the membership started to decline.

The English Methodist Church was started in 1885 by; Mrs. Agnes Fuller, Mrs. Tom Rayson, Miss Minnie McCrear, George Rayson, and Mr. and Mrs. John Gilmore. Probably the Kaw Valley Methodist congregation united to form this church.

Services were held twice a month and a Baker University student, Rev. Meggs conducted these first services. They met first in the building vacated by the German Methodist congregation at 601 Main St., then in 1886 they purchased the Temperance Tabernacle to the north of the St. Paul U.C.C. Church.

When the English and German congregations united in 1916 the German language was no longer spoken in the sermons. This United group decided to build a new church and the present United Methodist Church at 701 Church St. was built in 1920-22. Rev. John Patterson started the building program before he left to be a Missionary for India. It was a difficult time to build and the drought years following made it hard for the members to support the building program.

Trustees for the English Methodist Church in 1885 were; Mrs. Charles Hill, W.A. Fuller, J.F. Weaver, Mr. Speakes and Mrs. Solon Gilmore.

The Church of Christ held services in Roscoe school house, five and one-half miles south of Eudora until 1906, starting in the 1890's, probably. They were sometimes called, "Campbellites". This group joined the Vinland Church of Christ in 1906.

A Union Sunday School was organized at Roscoe school in 1934 by school districts; Harmony, Roscoe and Belleview. Officers were; Superintendent-F. Cos, Secretary-Frank Wade, Treasurer-Mrs. Harris, Chorister-Bert Daugherty and Assistant-Myrtle Musick.

The present Church of Christ in Eudora at 11th and Maple St. first met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe May in 1955 with eight charter members. They rented the Victory Theatre building in June, 1955 and the first minister was Donald Cashatt.

Members built the present structure.

The Union Chapel Church was a non-denominational church in the Belleview community southwest of Eudora, built on a half acre of land given by Fred, Harry and Jesse Whaley Dec. 30, 1907. One minister was a Rev. Smith, who also managed an old folks home at Lawrence.

This church must have started in the 1890's or before and was an English speaking congregation and sometimes was supplied by the Methodist Circuit.

Many members are the same as at Belleview Methodist Church, so it may have stopped in favor of the Union Chapel or Union Chapel stopped in favor of it. Some names connected with the church were; George Whaley's, A.C. Allens, A.B. Conners, A.C. James, James Duncan's, Ed. S. Forsythe, George Warmkers, George Colmans, John Akins, Lou Shirks, Roy Daughertys, Milton Shaftstalls, George Olts, Jr. and Sr., Rabers and Freese. In the 1930's or 40's the land was reverted back to the owner and the church was sold. It was a Methodist English speaking congregation at Belleview and was on the Roscoe-Eudora Circuit in 1914.

The Eudora Assembly of God Church was organized in 1945 with Rev. and Mrs. Joseph E. White conducting the first service in the Eisele Hardware, 737 Main St. The church officially organized March 13, 1947 and the present land was purchased and the church built at 831 Elm St. and dedicated Oct., 1947.

The First Southern Baptist Church began as a Mission June 1, 1952 in the home of Clifton and Myrtle Long at 6th and Elm St. Rev. Wilbur Noble was the first pastor. The Victory Theatre building was used for services from 1952 and the present lots were purchased in 1953 at the corner of 11th and Main St. The Church was formally organized Feb 22, 1953. The Education unit was added in 1966.

The first officers were; Church Clerk and Treasurer- Mrs. Bernice Broyles, Choir Director- Clinton Williams, Sunday School Superintendent- Vincent G. Miller, Pianist, Mrs. Nadine Button.

Ordained ministers from the church were; Jim Collins, Bob Collins, Edward Farris, Thomas Patton, and Terry Rayn. Lay Ministers, licensed by the Church are; Ed. Hague, William A. Long, Jerry Campbell, Charles Mashburn, and Jerry Rhien. John E. Long was the first one to be baptized.

The Community Baptist Church was formed in the home of Tony Polacca on Birch Street, Jerry Thomas was moderator. The first service was held at Eudora City Hall March, 19, 1972.

Trustees were; Delbert Breithaupt, Rex Slankard and Harold Massey. The Services were held in the old Kaw Valley Bank building called the Opry House in April, 1972. The church adopted a Constitution on June 29 and incorporated by the State of Kansas. The first pastor was Tommy Scott. Brother Francis officiated at the first baptism in the Kaw River near the bridge. They later built a new building a mile southeast of Eudora.

"A LETTER FROM KANWAKA"

Printed in The Kansas Weekly Gazette, Lawrence, Ks., Dec. 22, 1882

If there is one thing more than another that Kanwaka has reason to be proud of it is its ladies. For intellectuality, sociability and hospitality we know that they are inferior to none, and for beauty we feel able to take the cake. They have been carrying on for about two years a Literary Social, which they have made a grand success, having not only added to their own intellectual and social powers, but have every month opened their doors and invited in their husbands, brothers and friends and given them a treat in the way of some very interesting programs. Such a time was last Friday night, when they met at the house of Mr. and Mrs. E.A. COLEMAN. The large house of the host was full to overflowing of neighbors, and while the children occupied one room and enjoyed themselves in various games, the elder people filled another and listened to the reading in outline of Howell's "Chaucer Acquaintance," which was read by Mrs. TOPPING, Mrs. PIERSON and Miss Belle RICHARDSON. The close attention given to the readers showed how their efforts were appreciated, and the look of rapt attention and numerous sighs from the old men showed how their minds were drawn back into the past, when they were young and full of sentiment, and how the book brought vividly to their minds similar scenes in the past, in which they formed a prominent part. After finishing that book, Mrs. CONANT read "A Widow's Christmas," from Harper's, which was received with a great deal of feeling. Then there was a song by Miss Emma EVANS. Then Rollo DRAPER recited a declamation, followed by a selection by Mr. CONANT. The literary exercises then over, the president said they would have an hour of social talk, which was filled in by friendly greetings among the many present, with some more music, which they all joined in singing, Miss Ida EVANS presiding at the organ. The next meeting is to be a Christmas meeting, in two weeks, at Mr. E.A. COLEMAN's, for the children. In four weeks, at Mr. RICHARDSON's. We left at ten o'clock, and the house was resounding with merry laughter and pleasant voices. Many thanks to the ladies of Kanwaka. May their society always remain on its pleasant and firm foundation.

Last Sabbath was a day of special interest to the people of Kanwaka. Their large school-house was filled with an attentive audience, gathered to participate in the organization of a union church. Prof. L.W. SPRING preached an excellent and appropriate sermon, and Rev. H.E. WOODCOC assisted in the organization services, after which the Lord's Supper was observed. Twenty-three persons united with the church and others will join at an early day. Rev. A.M. RICHARDSON, who has been preaching there for some time, is pastor of the church. They hope to build a house of worship in the near future.

The Evening News, Lawrence, Ks., Nov. 22, 1883

Married at the residence of the bride's parents in Kanwaka; on the 21st inst., by Rev. A.M. RICHARDSON, Mr. Wm. W. CLELAND and Miss Alice M. DOUGLASS. A pleasant company gathered to witness the interesting ceremony, and offer their congratulations to the happy pair, who were the recipients of several elegant and useful presents.

From The Chittenden Directory Co., Compilers & Publishers, St. Louis, Mo., 1900-1901

Lawrence Daily Journal and Evening Tribune, August 4, 1894

Senator A.R. GREENE, of Lecompton has given the State Historical society a specimen brick from a chimney in the Lecompton prison of 1856-7. In this prison were confined the Hickory Point and other prisoners, free-state men who were incarcerated by the pro-slavery authorities for taking a hand in the struggle that made Kansas free.
